

Discovery Channel to Feature Stadium

(Jan. 16, 2007) -- The University of Phoenix Stadium's famous roll-in field gets national attention tonight on "Really Big Things" running on the Discovery Channel tonight at 9 p.m.

This is the third different show on the Discovery Channel which has featured the stadium. The program will highlight two of the multi-use facility's most unique features, the retractable roof and roll-in field, the first of its kind in North America.

The show is also scheduled to run Jan. 17. Check your local listings for times.
